

Boston July 25 Wednesday morning.

Dear Aunt Mary,

I made up the bundle yesterday expecting N. Coving to call, but he came not; as I know you will be disappointed I have made up my mind this morning to go down to the Stage office with the things myself. I shall not send little Henry's gown however; only his drawers & collar. Mrs Johnson has just been here to say that she is invited to Demitris Sargents & to know what time we would go. I agreed to go at $\frac{1}{2}$ past 3. N. having asked me to come at 3. No one is asked but Oliver & his wife. Warren is quite small to day but is not gone down in fact. I think I shall keep him here till night & then he can go out to Roxbury. I no more think he had the diarrhoea than I think he had the lumbargo. I write to you, meaning that my letter to Debora shall explain every thing. Tell Maria that Daniel Keale & his daughter Eliza both are in town staying at the Fullers. I shall call tom orrow, & if she comes back, I think she must ask them to tea.

I enclose a note I had from Mary this morning. If Maria comes in tom orrow I shall try to get Emma out with Dr. Field.

Yrs ever Anne.

I do hope Aunt Pris will be remaining. If she don't pretty soon I shall slope with her.

Miss Mary Weston.
